

Competition Tips - KID's SPOT

The kids spot competition is one of the favorite competitions of IMTA. In the guidebook it states: Actors 12 and under are to talk about a favorite sport or toy or activity or hobby for 15 to 30 seconds. So we usually see a lot of kids in basketball uniforms talking about basketball or baseball uniforms talking about baseball or ballet outfits talking about ballet or gymnastics outfits talking about gymnastics or kids with paintings talking about painting or kids with books talking about reading and it's all been done before. BORING!!!!

Seattle Talent actors like to steal the show during this competition, by going up and talking about something that is funny to them or funny about them. So essentially, we will be doing 30 second "stand-up comedy bits", about what is funny to you or funny about you. So start thinking about those things so that we can work them up into stand-up comedy routines.
