

Competition Tips - SCREEN TEST

This competition is the quickest competition of the week, and the easiest competition of the week, but it is the first competition of the week – making it one of the most important competitions of the week.

Your headshot will be flashed on the main stage, you will walk up to center stage with your headshot in the background, then the video feed will change from your headshot to your live feed, where you will recite your one-liner, showing off yourself and your personality in your screen test.

Contestants will be handed a piece of paper as they are lined up preparing to perform. That paper will contain 5 to 6 options of one-liners. You will have the opportunity to rehearse each and choose the one that suits you. Upon selecting the appropriate one-liner, rehearse with all the time that you have until you get onto the stage, so that you can make the most of your screen test by being charismatic, cool and fun - presenting yourself to the convention with the one-liner you have selected. You should be off script and use that one liner to present yourself to the room, the agents, and the audience. Have fun with this one and hopefully it will catapult you into a week of success.
